

The fall is the first book in the on-work novel called The Golden Amulet by Arvi that revolves around two teens (Ivra and Lena) who have suffered a devastating incident. In this fictional universe, along with the whole world, there exists two islands contrary to each other named Blitzland (ruled by the successors of Mediocris) and Chaosland (ruled by the successor of Mors). The islands vibrate at a quantum frequency outside the visible spectrum, existing in a higher-dimensional phase. Only those who possess the right harmonic alignment or technology can access them. They are in the southern hemisphere. As the name states, Blitzland is occupied by good people but the chaos land not so. The evil beings in Chaosland serve a monster named Slayer whose main aim is to take control of Blitzland or so everyone thinks. Slayer is in seek of the golden amulet which is the most powerful amulet which was created thousands of years ago during an event named "The blackout". Some way or another the devastating event that affected Ivra and Lena alluded to the actions of The Slayer. Both the teens join forces to seek revenge. But is revenge always the best choice? Will they succeed? If yes, why is this book named the fall? Just remember, you need to FALL to rise. Many twists and turns are waiting in the queue to reveal themselves. Why did blackout happen in the first place? Who created Blackout? How did out of nowhere, the legions and Mediocris join forces? What is slayer's true intention? Why is it that the fate of the world lies in hands of these two worthless teens? Or what is that makes them worthful? Find all the answers in this Novel. It never reveals the whole story in one go.
